FÀILTE

Welcome

The Outer Hebrides have a vibrant food and drink scene with something to suit every taste and budget. From fine dining, unique chef's table experiences, restaurants, pubs and tearooms, to distilleries, food shacks, pop ups, takeaway, community shops, cafés and even honesty boxes, the islands have it all.

Local specialties, delicacies and produce are regarded as some of the finest sustainably produced food and drink in Scotland made with passion by our independent producers.

This guide uncovers some of the best culinary experiences for you to enjoy and where to buy produce too.

www.visitouterhebrides.co.uk/food-and-drink

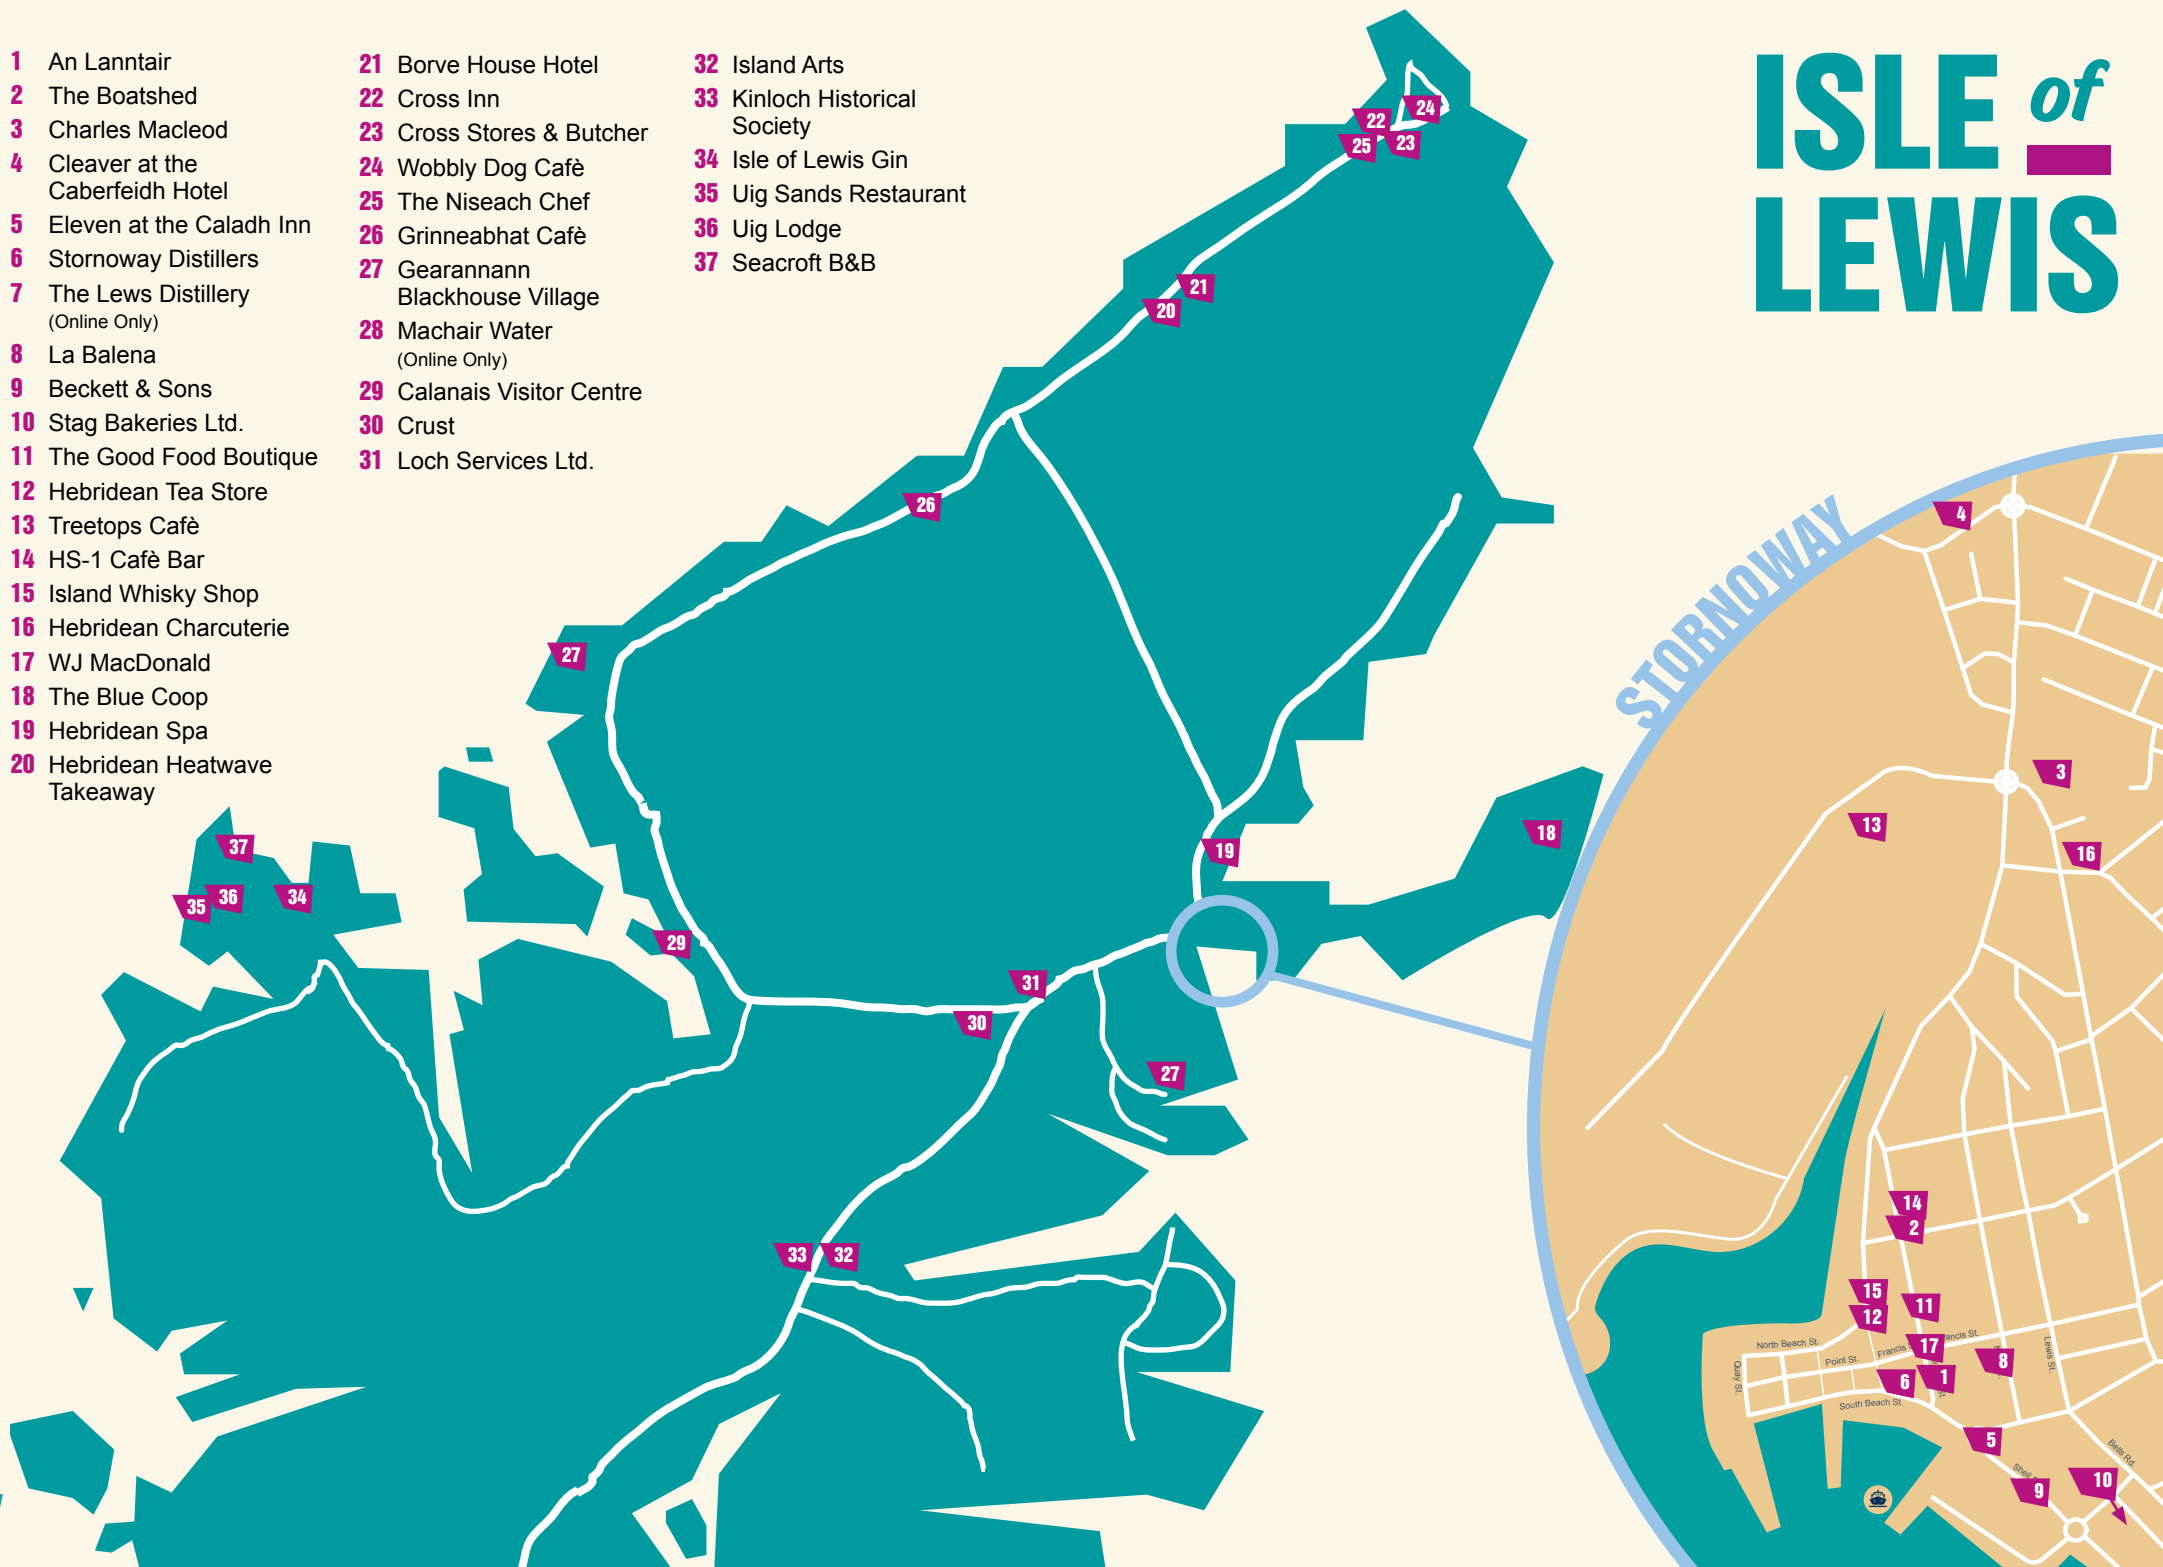

The guide breaks down the island offering by Lewis, Harris, Uist and Barra for ease of finding the best of what is nearby. At the time of publication all details are accurate but please double check opening times etc before travelling to venues.

The botanicals which flourish in the glorious machair land of south-west Lewis inspire our contemporary Leòdhas gin – mint, wild thyme, rhubarb root with just a touch of heather. Blended with pure Lewis water which flows through the island's Gneissian rock, they come together to create a light, refreshing gin.
