■ Learning + Living Wildness

Thu 4/20/2023 to Sun 4/23/2023

Location: Balranald Nature Reserve (United Kingdom)

Thursday 20th - Sunday 23rd April

Time: Check programme for full details

Visit, experience, learn about and respond creatively to Balranald Nature Reserve on the Isle of North Uist, through this four-days event combining visual art, photography and nature. Explore the machair, a beautiful, wildlife-rich grassland haven, a natural environment unique to the Outer Hebrides. Surrounded by marshes, sculpted sand dunes, sweeping sandy beaches and a rocky foreshore, this is a perfect place to engage with the landscape. Along with an opportunity to learn about the processes and rhythms of crofting agriculture and life, there's also a good chance you'll get to see a corncrake, as well as other migratory birds, as they arrive on the island.

This exciting event has been created for anyone with an interest in our natural world, wildlife, photography, printmaking and exploring!

Tickets: £300 / £225

■ Exhibition - Cuimhneachan: Memorial: Peter White

Mon 4/24/2023 (All day) ↻

Location: An Lanntair (Scotland, United Kingdom)

Saturday 8th April - Saturday 13th May

Time: During An Lanntair opening hours

Memorial is an on-going project of interconnected themes explored in painting, drawing and text. At the heart of the exhibition are two pieces of work: One incorporates a series of graphite head drawings made from prisoner identity photographs, and the other is the Memorial Stones Project which involves walking, collecting, painting, naming, remembering and returning.

Peter White was born in Ayrshire, studied at the Edinburgh College of Art, and has lived and worked in the North West of Scotland since the mid-1990s. He has exhibited widely and is known for his arresting, austere paintings of apparently simple subjects such as a head, a boat, a book or a bowl: vessels that contain a life-force, or a memory of the life or function they once had. These can be monumental in scale or the size of personal icons.

Brownbear

Fri 4/28/2023 (All day)

Location: An Lanntair (Stornoway, Scotland, United Kingdom)

Friday 28th April

Time: 8pm

brownbear is the Ayrshire group fronted by singer-songwriter, musician, writer and filmmaker Matt Hickman, who combines a gift for storytelling with his distinctive 'adopted genre' of indie-soul.

Their 2014 debut single 'Dead Or Alive' was the initial spark that led to positive attention from radio and other media outlets, resulting in support slots with The Libertines at venues like the Barrowlands and Alexandra Palace, as well as several European dates. From this point until the release of debut album 'What Is Home?' in 2018, Matt worked on building up a solid fan base for brownbear in Scotland and further afield. As his first record, 'What Is Home?' acted as an accumulation of all the highs and lows that Matt had experienced in life until that point, taking listeners on a broad journey that traverses themes of love, loss and identity.

Under 18s must be accompanied by an adult.

Tickets: £10

Exhibition - Cuimhneachan: Memorial: Peter White

Sat 4/29/2023 (All day) ↻

Location: An Lanntair (Scotland, United Kingdom)

Saturday 8th April - Saturday 13th May

Time: During An Lanntair opening hours

Memorial is an on-going project of interconnected themes explored in painting, drawing and text. At the heart of the exhibition are two pieces of work: One incorporates a series of graphite head drawings made from prisoner identity photographs, and the other is the Memorial Stones Project which involves walking, collecting, painting, naming, remembering and returning.

Peter White was born in Ayrshire, studied at the Edinburgh College of Art, and has lived and worked in the North West of Scotland since the mid-1990s. He has exhibited widely and is known for his arresting, austere paintings of apparently simple subjects such as a head, a boat, a book or a bowl: vessels that contain a life-force, or a memory of the life or function they once had. These can be monumental in scale or the size of personal icons.
