SUMMER 2015
SAMHRADH 2015

SUN, SEA, SOUNDS AND HERRING BLÀTHS NA GRÈINE, CEÒL NA MARA, AGUS SGADAIN

Summer is here at last and what a pleasure it is to announce a wonderful, packed programme here at An Lanntair.

We are looking forward to celebrating with HebCelt this year on their 20th birthday, launching the festival at An Lanntair on the 15th July with 'Between Islands'; a new collaboration bringing together a trio of songwriters from Shetland, Orkney and Lewis. Our performing arts programme is jam packed all summer with incredible acts, including the Scottish National Jazz Orchestra with Eddi Reader, the wonderful Phil Cunningham & Aly Bain and much more.

The birthday theme continues this season with 150 years of the Stornoway Port Authority celebrated here in our main gallery from 25th June with an exhibition of Katie Scarlett Howard's 'Clann Nighean an Sgadain: The Herring Girls'. And please do come along to our Festival of Food and Herring here throughout the building on the 3rd and 4th of July. We are also delighted to be welcoming back Will Maclean this August with his fascinating exhibition 'Fiaradh gu 'n Iar: Veering Westerly'. Our fantastic Education team have also created a diverse set of opportunities this summer for everyone to learn new creative skills with us, from set design, to traditional Gaelic song to musical theatre. There really is something for everyone at An Lanntair this summer!

Elly Fletcher, Chief Executive

Tha an samhradh ann, fa dheòidh, agus abair thusa gu bheil e na thoileachas dhomh a bhith a' cur fìor dheagh phrògram de thachartasan air bhog aig An Lanntair.

Tha sinn a' coimhead air adhart ri comharrachadh fichead bliadhna den Fhèis Cheilteach Innse Gall, is i ga cur air chois aig An Lanntair air 15mh Iuchar le 'Eadar Eileanan'; pròiseact a' toirt trìuir sgrìobhaichean-ciùil à Sealtainn, Arcaibh is Leòdhas còmhla. Tha prògram mòr de dh'ealain-chluiche ann 'son an t-samhraidh, le tàlant leithid Orcastra Nàiseanta Jazz na h-Alba le Eddi Reader, na cluicheadairean ainmeil Phil Cunningham is Aly Bain agus tòrr mòr a bharrachd gu bhith a' nochdadh.

Tha bliadhna mhòr eile ga comharrachadh is e 150 bliadhna bhon a thàinig Ùghdarras Cala Steòrnabhaigh gu bith, leis an taisbeanadh Clann Nighean an Sgadain: The Herring Girls aig Katie Scarlett Howard sa phrìomh ghailearaidh bho 25mh Ògmhios. Agus feuchaibh is thigibh gu ar Fèis Bhìdh is Sgadain air feadh an togalaich seo air 3 is 4 Iuchar. Tha sinn cuideachd a' cur fàilte bhlàth air Uilleam MacIllEathain is e a' tigh-inn air ais chun An Lanntair san Lùnastal leis an taisbeanadh iongantach aige A' Fiaradh gu 'n Iar: Veering Westerly. Tha ar Sgioba Foghlaim air prògram farsaing samhraidh a chruthachadh làn chothroman dha duine sam bith air sgìlean-ealain ùra a thogail; bho dhealbhadh seata gu seann orain Ghàidhlig gu dràma-ciùil. Chan eil teagamh agam nach bi rud ann dha na h-uile duine aig An Lanntair as t-samhradh.

Elly Fletcher, Ceannard

TAISBEANADHEAN

Clann-nighean an Sgadain: The Herring Girls -

Katie Scarlett Howard
25 June – 1 August

A new exhibition of striking ceramic figures celebrating the Herring Girls who serviced the fishing industry on which Stornoway was built. The women undertook the arduous work of gutting, salting and packing herring into barrels for sale and export – notably to the Baltic - and also followed the seasonal work to other seaports such as Lerwick, Lowestoft and Yarmouth. The exhibition will also feature photographs of the thriving harbour and quayside throughout the last century as part of the programme to mark the 150th year of the Stornoway Port Authority.

Festival of Food and Herring, 3 & 4 July

As part of our Herring Girls Exhibition we will be hosting a 2 day food and drink festival celebrating local produce and traditions.
